

Genesis Medspa Free Skin Care Clinic for Teens

It can be tough getting teens to take care of their skin. Many teenagers don't understand the importance of wearing sunscreen. In addition, many teenagers don't like using the products that will improve their acne and love using make-up that will make their acne worse! Parents can easily become frustrated as their "words of wisdom" seem to be completely ignored while their teen's faces become more broken-out and/or sun-damaged.

This is where Genesis MedSpa can help. Genesis is offering free Skin Care Clinics for teens and their parents. These will be held the 1st & 3rd Wednesdays of each month this fall (Oct – Dec.) from 4:30 – 5:30 PM and will discuss issues such as basic skin health & wellness; the importance of sun protection; acne causes, prevention & treatment options; and healthy make-up choices.

Lisa Jenks, M.D., owner and medical director of Genesis MedSpa, makes learning about skin health interesting and fun. Teens will experience a complimentary skin analysis, called a Visia. This state of the art technology analyzes the skin for sun damage, pore size, texture, and bacteria levels. Many teens may be surprised to find that they already have significant sun damage. Dr. Jenks and her staff can answer those tough questions about oily skin, getting rid of blackheads and what skin-care regiment is best for each teen's particular skin.

Refreshments and desserts will be served. Play 'Deal or No Deal' to test your Skin IQ! Spots are limited to ten teens at each event, so call to reserve a spot for you and your teen now! Parents will learn as much about skin health and wellness as their kids will! Reservations can be made by calling 719-579-6890. Genesis Medspa is located at 202 E. Cheyenne Mountain Blvd., Suite R, in Country Club Corners.
